NEW EMPLOYEES INVITED TO LUNCH WITH PRESIDENT'S CABINET

New employees were invited to lunch in the Private Dining Room on Wednesday, March 13, with members of the President's Cabinet. Employees were able to learn about the college and its leadership.

EMPLOYEES GATHER FOR ALL COLLEGE DAY AND RECEPTION

Faculty and staff gathered for All College Day on Thursday, March 14, to hear updates from leaders. Dr. Barbara Kavalier, SCC president, recognized some of the bigger projects taking place, along with several faculty and staff members who made important contributions over the year.

Todd Galbierz, Executive Vice President, gave an update on SCC's budget. Amy Koehler, Provost/Chief Academic Officer, presented on the changes the college is making to better help our students. Dr. Chris Hubbard-Jackson, Dean of Assessment & Institutional Effectiveness, presented a new process for program planning and review.

Following the presentations was a reception with appetizers and mocktails.

SCC SPONSORS 'GET WISE' (WOMEN IN SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING) EVENT

The Barbie-themed 'Get WISE' event was held at GM Wentzville Assembly in February. The event was focused on inspiring middle school girls to join STEM fields and highlighted career options.

CHAMBER CHOIR PERFORMS WITH ST. LOUIS PHILHARMONIC

The SCC Chamber Choir, along with the Lindenwood University Concert Choir, performed with the St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra this month, at Chaminade's Skip Viragh Center for the Arts.

CENTER STAGE THEATRE PRESENTS 'THE OUTSIDERS'

The Performing Arts Department's Center Stage Theatre proudly presented "The Outsiders" March 7-10. Adapted by Christopher Sergel, from the book by S. E. Hinton, "The Outsiders" is perhaps the quintessential coming-of-age story. The novel had a huge impact in the '60s and continues six decades later.

FACULTY SELECTED TO MCGRAW HILL SYMPOSIUMS

Kim Mercurio, Assistant Dean, and Steve Oberg, Associate Professor of Business, were selected by McGraw Hill to be among 20 faculty in the country to participate in research events.

Kim went to Tucson for the Computer Information Technology research event March 14-16, to give feedback on their platforms and how to use new technology in their materials.

Steve attended the symposium for Business & Marketing in New Orleans, Feb. 29-March 2.

Desmond Niboh, Student Life Manager, was named Outstanding Young Missourian by the Missouri Jaycees. The St. Charles Jaycees honored him at their annual celebration on January 20.
